

Sewer Project Complaints Given To Council by Irate Home Owners

By AGNES MOSELEY
FR. 5-4304

One of the items on the agenda of the City Council on Tuesday, Sept. 14, was the public hearing accorded the property owners of Sepulveda Gardens concerning the recently completed sewer project in that area. Complaints or grievances were to be presented in writing prior to the meeting. There were three such communications filed with the Council. Two came from individual property owners. One concerned the faulty reconstruction of a drain on Dralle Dr., while the other concerned faulty repaving of some of the streets. The third grievance was signed by a group of Sepulveda Gardenites and also complained of the faulty resurfacing of some of the streets. This communication was similar to one filed on Sept. 7, and since then, investigated by the office of the City Engineer, Assistant to the City Engineer, John R. Patrick, reported that he had talked with the sub-contractor who had worked in the area and that the work on the streets would be brought up to standard. A crew of men started working on that project on Thursday, Sept. 16.

Incidentally, if you have never seen your City Council in action, it is worth your while to drop into their meetings which occur every Tuesday at City Hall. The business of this city's government is absorbing and also your business.

Bernice Daniels, newspaper chairman for the Alpha Omega chapter of the Theta Chi Epsilon sorority, has on display at her home, at 22415 Ladeene Ave., a large and attractive selection of Christmas cards and miscellaneous gifts. The proceeds from the sale of these items will go toward the financing of a surgery room at the new Daniel Freeman Hospital in Inglewood.

Marilyn Livingston, of 5017 Milne Dr., third vice-president of Seaside PTA this year, is directing plans for a social at the school on Sept. 24, from 8 to 11 p.m. Especially invited are new residents of this area. Seaside PTA socials are a wonderful place to get acquainted with neighbors whose interests are the same as your own.

Marjory Theod's, 22310 Charlotte Dr., neighborhood was saddened last week by the news that Marjory has been stricken with polio. Marjory's case of polio was diagnosed as such on Thursday, Sept. 9. She was treated at Los Angeles General Hospital and later moved to the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital, 4039 N. Gilman Rd., El Monte. The Theod's son, Paul, age 1 1/2 years, is being cared for by his grandmother in Portland, Ore. Bud Theod, who is a flight engineer for Western Airlines, is able to drop in to see his son occasionally when his flights take him to Portland. Marjory is receiving the finest care, but is understandably lonesome for her family and friends. I am sure she would enjoy hearing from any of you who would care to write or send her a card.

This column owes an apology to the Palos Verdes Laundromatic, one of the services in the new shopping center located at the intersection of Palos Verdes Blvd. and Sepulveda Blvd., for we consistently misspelled their name in last week's column.

Mrs. Marle Daniels from Woodland Park, Colo., is visiting her three sons and their families. The Kenneth Daniels live at 22322 Evalyn Ave., the The Dave Daniels at 22404 Reynolds Dr., and the Harry Daniels at 22415 Ladeene Ave.

Patricia Chatfield, of 22323 Ellinwood Dr., along with her two children, David and Cindy, returned on Thursday, Sept. 16, after a delightful vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cameron, of Glenview, Ill. Highlight of the vacation was the swimming that the Chatfields were able to do in Lake Michigan. David and Cindy's daddy, Chat, did not partake of this vacation as he was busy flying a DC-7 for American Airlines.

Young Prentice Hunt, of 22309 Evalyn Ave., entertained a group of friends at his birthday party on Sunday, Sept. 19. From 4 to 5:30 p.m. the youngsters gathered to play games and help Prentice eat his birthday cake and share his popples. Steven Henrikson, Linda Brower, Susan Stennett, Cindy Daniels, Gregory Luce, Robert and Michael Van Dera enjoyed Prentice's hospitality along with Bill, David, Bryan, and Craig Moats, who are Prentice's cousins, and who came from San Gabriel for the affair.

Greatly missed by all their friends and neighbors are the Glenn Stewarts, of 4711 Avenue C, and the Robert Dawes, of 4706 Avenue C. Both families have recently moved from these Sepulveda Gardens' homes. The Stewarts will move to Palmdale and the Dawes will continue to be Torrance residents.

The same folks who are sorry to lose their good neighbors the Stewarts and the Dawes, are happy that Gloria and Clarence Muchmore, of 4802 Avenue B, are still with us. Clarence Muchmore, a second lieutenant in the Air Force, was called to report for duty on Aug. 30. He has been assigned to Norton Air Force Base in San Bernardino. This assignment means, of course, that he is able to spend week-ends at home.

Don't forget to phone in your news, please. Remember—I can't write about it if I don't know about it. Phone news to the number which appears at the head of this column or drop a postal card to 22505 Leyte Dr.

David Cayton Leaves To Attend Cal Poly

Leaving today to enter California State Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo is David W. Cayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Cayton, of 635 W. 214th St. A graduate of Gardena High School last spring, Cayton has been active in the Gardena De Molay. He plans to take a four-year course in agricultural engineering.

REUNITED . . . Francisco Barajas, left, here for his first United States visit, views some photographs made 35 years ago when he and his brother, Clemente, parted company. Looking on are two of Clemente's five children, Josephine, 8, and Clemente Jr., 11.

Brothers, Parted for 34 Years, Join to Tour County, Reminisce

Thirty-five years ago, Francisco Barajas and his brother, Clemente parted company, for the brothers were growing up, and each decided to start out on his own.

Clemente traveled around his native Mexico for 8 years, then came to California. In 1946, he settled in Torrance, and soon opened a neighborhood grocery at 1552 W. Carson St. Thursday, Francisco, now 70, and Clemente, 47, once again got together, a reunion for pleasure and profit.

First U. S. Visit It was Francisco's first visit to the United States, and he thinks it's hard to beat. And Torrance weather, Francisco rated it tops—"muy bueno."

Clemente plans to take his brother on a quick but thorough excursion of the area, with special emphasis on Lancaster and other big agricultural areas. Francisco owns and operates a 2000 acre farm in Sinola, Mexico, 500 miles west of Mexico City. Nearly 300 employees are required to keep the farm running. They especially are interested in new irrigation systems and Francisco plans to buy the latest in mechanized equipment to ship back home. Clemente has included a trip to the County Fair on his schedule, a rare experience for Francisco, he feels. They will spend considerable time viewing the farm exhibits.

Tomatoes and other vegetables, and cotton, grown on Francisco's immense farm are shipped to Los Angeles markets for consumption here. "If I have enough time, I'll take Francisco to LA so he can make sure his tomatoes get good care," Barajas laughingly says.

On hand at the Barajas' home, at 1562 W. Carson, to greet their Uncle from Old Mexico, were Clemente's children, Josephine, a Halldale student; Vera, 16, Clemente Jr., 11, and Johnny, 15, all Narbonne pupils; and Albert, 19, a sophomore studying law at USC. Mrs. C. Barajas also was there, of course.
